

Brands throughout the world are striving to engage and grow their audience. Expertly made illustrations improve engagement by stimulating the eye. They communicate ideas and enrich our experience of the things we see. For brands this builds credibility and inspires loyalty.

I wish to make my illustration skills available to you, because I believe they will benefit your business.

I specialise in hand drawn illustration that captures the imagination. My line-work is created by dip pen and black indian ink, a technique I have continued to explore and refine.

My illustration skills have been honed to create bespoke artwork. This is artwork that can inspire your audience and raise the profile of your brand.
